OUR TOWN

Robert W. Service in his poem "The Lark" has caught and preserved for time the arch spirit of war days—lonely weeks in the trenches where American boys died. Last week "Our Town" presented "Flanders Fields" and the reply. Below we give "The Lark" a poem inspired by the soldier's longing for peace and home. The publication of this poem is suggested by reason of the publication last week of the others and this one, a companion sentiment, is beautiful:

THE LARK

From wrath-red dawn to wrath-red dawn,
The guns have brayed without abate;
And now the sick sun looks upon
The bleared, blood-boltered fields of hate
As if it loathed to rise again.
How strange the hush, yet sudden, hark!
From yon down-trodden gold of grain,
The leaping rapture of a lark.

A fusillade of melody,
That sprays us from yon trench of sky;
A new amazing enemy
A battery on radiant wings,
We cannot silence though we try;
That from yon gap of golden fleece
Hurls at us hopes of such strange things
As joy and home and love and peace.

Pure heart of song, do you know
That we are making earth a hell?
Or is it that you try to show
Life still is joy and all is well?
Brave little wings! Ah, not in vain
You beat into that bit of blue:
Lo! we who pant in war's red rain
Lift shining eyes, see Heaven too.

Robert W. Service, Canadian author, was born in Preston, England, in 1876 was educated in Scotland and emigrated to Canada where he became associated in 1905 with the Bank of Commerce of British Columbia. Later he went to White Horse Yukon Territory and to Dawson. Readers of Service know that he got his inspiration for his collection of poems "The Spell of the Yukon" while in the frozen north. It was there that he saw in all its stark reality the lonesome land, the white desolation of frost and fearful deeds. When war came in 1914 he went to France with a Canadian army and served with the Red Cross. In France he wrote a collection of poems "The Rhymes of a Red Cross Man" and "The Lark" is taken from the volume.

O. B. Colquitt who for more than 30 years was leader of the liquor forces in Texas has withdrawn from the race for United States Senator because it now appears that Governor Smith of New York will be nominated at Houston. Some time back there appeared in this paper an editorial expressing a prediction that Colquitt would be severely dealt with by the Ultra-Dry faction with whom he joined in Dallas. Colquitt, but for the fact that he has been frowned upon in his old age of tottering interference, would have continued his race for the Senate. If he had been assured of the support of the forces he now seeks to run with, he would have continued. He could have endorsed Governor Smith with eagerness had his support been forthcoming.

In another column will be found the votes by states in the Democratic party as they stand today on the eve of the Houston convention. Texas is placed with a number of Holy Land states, Klan ridden and out of harmony with the remainder of the party.

Jim Ferguson is a candidate for office again, but not a political office. He is a candidate for the office of private citizen. The statesman says he cannot be defeated for this office, nor will the politicians be able to escape his discussion of public questions. He spoke in Thorndale last Thursday to more than 3000 old friends. It was a typical gathering of rural people and the former governor made a typical speech of homespun oratory, a severe indictment of the Moody administration and the trend of politics in Texas.

Ferguson may have drained the bitter cup to its dregs, who can tell? Now well advanced in years, though vigorous and with much of the old fire left in him, close observers feel that perhaps his yielding to the inevitable of retiring to private life may hurt more than anything else. The smell of battle is sweet to the nostrils of this rugged old idol of the common people. Jim Ferguson is the bravest man ever known to politics in Texas. There is nothing he likes more than a good fight and what a record he has made! Hated by his accusers and loved by his friends the common people, he stood for more than two hours under the shade of elms Thursday and cast a broadside that hurt. Hair that has turned gray from the exacting years of strife and battle, and eyes that flash the courage that is in him he will go on to the end a foeman worthy of the name.

Cameron is growing faster than most people realize. There is now under construction a large number of new homes. The gas lines are being laid and the city is waiting a street topping program that will assure better streets. The old town is getting away from some folks who thought ten years ago they would be able to keep pace with it or hold it in subjection. One thing we lack, and that is a better spirit of loyalty to home industry and let us hope that 1928 will bring to those who preach the doctrine and violate it, a conviction that the city cannot be builded without loyalty.

LIGHT RATES REDUCED FOR STREETS OF CITY

COUNCIL SIGNS 5 YEAR CONTRACT BUT MUST REPLACE BROKEN GLOBES

A contract for five years on what appears to be a saving of $72 per month on street lighting, has been signed by the city with the Texas Power and Light Company.

Under the terms of the contract the street lights are placed on a meter with a very low killowat rate. Heretofore the light company has replaced all globes and broken equipment. The city is required to keep up the lights at this time and the light company will sell the globes at cost.

In the past and following wind or electric storms light globes have been replaced at a cost of $150 per month while other months the replacements have not been as high.

The council passed an ordinance requiring plumbers who do gas fitting to execute a bond to the city and pay a license fee of $25.

The ordinance introduced by Mayor Chambers to keep bread trucks out of Cameron is being rewritten and will be passed at a near date.

The council is resorting to executive sessions on the claim that visitors have disturbed the body in their deliberations.

INTEREST IS GROWING IN REVIVAL MEETING

CHRISTIAN CHURCH SERVICES ENLISTING LARGE ATTENDANCE HERE

The revival meeting now in progress at the Christian church grows in power each evening. The crowd keeps increasing at each service and beginning with Tuesday night when six people came forward during the invitation much good is being accomplished in the lives of all present.

Evangelist Byerly, while flaying sin and driving hard in his sermons at sin in Cameron, has complimented Cameron and those faithful people who through the years have kept Christianity alive. Many times during the services so far he has struck fire and stirred the people up as few speakers in public platforms have done. His love for the souls of men is manifested in every service and by his untiring efforts at all times. His voice gave out a little this week and he had to ease up a little in his speaking by order of his physician.

The pastor of the church, Wallace Jones, is highly elated over the meeting to date and we quote him as saying, "the best is yet to come, we absolutely put no limit on the remaining days of the revival." The work now being done is largely the result of the untiring efforts of Brother and Sister Jones in the months they have resided in Cameron. Cameron is to be congratulated in having them as leaders in religious circles.

The meeting will continue over Sunday. Definite closing services will be announced later in the week. Anyone interested is invited and urged to attend and help in anyway possible.

ITS BENEFITS UNIVERSAL

Many people have not learned to look upon advertising in the light of the realistic rhymester of an olden time who penned this famous verse on advertising:

Go forth in haste; with bills and paste
Proclaim, to all creation,
That men are wise who advertise
In every generation.

In large part the public regards advertising as being of possible advantage to the advertiser for which the consumer pays, and yet the facts prove otherwise. Time and again has it been shown that well judged, properly conducted and persistent advertising inures to the benefit not only of the person who attracts attention to his wares in this manner, but also of the community.

After interviewing large numbers of distributors as to the economic effects of advertising, a committee of the national distribution conference reports:

"Broadly speaking, it would seem that where the advertising creates an increased demand for products of a certain class, a wider distribution of such products—in other words, makes new business, bringing about lessened distribution costs and lessened production costs owing to increased demand—there can be no doubt as to the value of such advertising, not merely to the concerns that pay for it but also to the public that consumes the goods."

"Bills and paste" have given way to newspapers and magazines and those "who advertise" are not only wise but altruistic and philanthropic, for by helping themselves they are helping others.

YOUR TOWN AND YOU

Your town boosts you. Why not do as well by the town as it does by you? No citizen is so powerfulñ none so humble, but what the town is an aid to him in some way or other.

The food that he eats, the clothes he wears, the recreation and amusement that he enjoys, all originate in the town, because the money with which they are procured is made there.

When a fellow boosts his own town he does not stop there. He is performing an act that improves his own condition, for every good word and every good deed has its elevating influence.

A few people are always home town boosters. They accomplish much in the way of community betterment, and this improves the condition of not only themselves, but also of those who do no boosting at all.

If every citizen would constitute himself a home town booster the result collectively would be many times as great, and apportunities for self improvement would be more numerous.

Think it over in your odd moments. Then get into the boost wagon and hit the pace.

ADVENTURE

"When I hear a man tell of wonderful adventures I do not believe him, my own life has been so commonplace," says E. W. Howe.

Here is a man in his seventies condemning life for being humdrum and monotonous. The editor of "potato hill' 'is but one of many. In every walk of life there are men and women finding life too commonplace to be interesting. They are not entirely tired of life but are extremly bored. They work, eat sleep and attend a social function or a lodge meeting now and then and hope for the great adventure which never comes.

What Howe and others like him are pitying themselves for lacking others are extracting out of the commonplace things of life. The inventor, the scholar, the businessman and other workers make their work an adventure by putting romance and imagination in it. Making a success out of life is excitement and adventure every step of the way.

Th ordinary happenings of the day assume the proportions of an Arabian Nights adventure in the eyes of the romantic and imaginative.

Notice To Milam County Baptists

The Baptists of Milam County are urged to attend a special meeting next Sunday, June 10, at 3 o'clock at the First Baptist church of Cameron, Texas. This meeting is to be a rally meeting and the purpose of the meeting is to decide whether or not we will go in for an encampment in Cameron, or Milam county, this summer.

The young people of the county are especially urged to attend this meeting, for it is for their benefit and enjoyment that this encampment is under consideration.

The city council of Cameron has very graciously tendered us the use of the city park free of charge on condition we will take care of the park while we use it. Mr. P. O. Adams speaks for the corporation owning the swimming pool and says that we may have free use of the pool. So it is possible that we can have a splendid camp in Cameron this summer without a very heavy expense.

This matter will be passed on next Sunday afternoon, June 10, at three o'clock and we urge the people to attend and say what they want to do.

Belton Editor Visits In Cameron Sunday

F. B. Russell, editor of the Belton Journal, was a visitor in Cameron Sunday in company with Dr. A. E. Ballard who is interested in the Belton Sanitarium. Editor Russell is a big factor in the life of his community and is publishing a splendid paper which we are glad to have on our exchange list.

Mr. Russell was born in Milam county four miles from the city of Cameron and remembers gratefully many old friends here. He was happy to meet a number of them Sunday and while here was a guest for a few minutes at The Herald office.

Baptist Church

Sunday June 10 will be special Rally Day at the First Baptist church, starting at 7:30 a. m., prayer meeting. The eleven o'clock service will be a membership service and an effort is being made to reach all members in order to make the attendance ont of note.

B. Y. P. U.'s will meet promptly at 6:30 for regular services and the evening service, consisting of orchestra music, Intermediate B. Y. P. U. play, a picture on the cross with scripture and special music magnifying the cross will begin at 7:30 p. m. The sermon by the pastor will conclude the Sunday program.

The congregation of the Baptist church was favored at the Sunday evening service by a bass solo rendered by H. P. Black, educational director, when he sang for their hearing a selection from the "Messiah."

Methodist Church

Our Sunday school attendance has been good recently. Why not keep it good all summer? Remember that it meets at 9:45 every Sunday.

Our Junior choir had a fine start last Sunday night. The Juniors will sing a song by themselves next Sunday night. We hope it will be a big choir.

There have been many expressions of appreciation of the orchestra instruments in the service last Sunday night. If there are others who play without making discord we invite them to join us next Sunday night.

We were favored last Sunday with special musical numbers by visiting singers. Miss Jessie Guffey, a Cameron girl but now of Arizona, sang at the morning hour and at night Master Guffey, a child soprano, surprised the audience with his rendition of Rodney's "Calvary."

The pastor is in Georgetown this week but will return to fill the pulpit at both services Sunday. The choir will provide the usual good selections and in addition the children will sing and the pastor is hoping to present a very delightful extra number.

Let all of the young people of the Epworth League and the children of day night.
the Junior society remember that these organizations meet at 7:00 Sun-

SHARP DUST PARTICLES 'HOOK' THEIR WAY INTO MEMBRANES AND DISEASE RESULTS

Science Tells Why Some Trades, Dry Sweeping and Motoring on Certain Highways Are Dangerous to Health in Bringing on Respiratory Maladies.

Cross-Section of Human Head Showing Mucous Membrane of Nose and Throat.

SCIENTIFIC research is gradually finding out why dust kills one out of every seven persons. The Harvard Medical School, the United States Public Health Service, various insurance companies and the great labor organizations of the country are all interested in the problem.

For example, according to Dr. L. R. Thompson, of the United States Public Health Service, the sickness record of granite workers shows that the greater part of illness proceeds from respiratory conditions and that respiratory diseases are three times as prevalent among granite workers as among workers in general industry.

"It is clear," said Dr. Thompson, "that wherever there is a great amount of granite dust there is a dangerous hazard, a mortality which seems inevitable and which is rising all the time."

Incidentally, according to Federal statistics, from 4,500,000 to 5,000,000 persons are employed in the dusty trade, but everyone, from the man who fears "dry sweeping" by housewives on their front steps to the motorist who must find his way through clouds of dust on the highway, is affected by the menace of fine particles in the air.

Various theories have been proposed to explain why dust should be such a danger to health. The usual explanation seeks the cause in the tenderness of the mucous membrane lining of the throat and nose.

Healthy throats and noses secrete a fluid, the mucus, which is just sufficient to take care of ordinary dust in the air. If that amount should be exceeded, the dust becomes too much to be handled by the mucus and the dust penetrates into the deeper parts of the body lining.

Dust is of various kinds, but whether it is organic or inorganic in origin makes no difference. What matters is the dust particles dangerous by their shape. Particles that have sharp corners, such as dust from marble, metal, wood or stone, cut into the membrane very much as an old-fashioned knitting needle cuts into worsted and there the dust particles become fastened.

The mucus fluid referred to presses over those particles, moving them to and fro, and causing the membrane to become tender and then inflamed.

Should the process become continuous, as so often happens, serious chronic conditions result and in aggravated cases, tuberculosis may be their termination. That, in brief, is what happens.

Scientists have tried with all their resources at their command to combat dust in the air, but so far, with a few exceptions, the results have not been fruitful. As a means of protection, suggestions have been made in various quarters that the dust should be laid with some sort of physical or chemical means and in many sections of the United States municipalities have been laying the dust with calcium chloride. That is a chemical capable of absorbing a high degree of moisture from the air, hygroscopic, as it is called, which acts as a binder of dust on the highways. It also has great germicidal value.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

SCIENCE SHOWS SLEUTHS OF FUTURE MAY OUTDO EVEN SHERLOCK HOLMES

Particles on Clothing May Show Man's Occupation and Home Town—French Investigator Paves Way With Microscopic Examination to Convict Slayer.

The Modern Sleuth Examines Suspect's Clothing With Microscope. Insert Shows Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Creator of Sherlock Holmes.

WHEN Sherlock Holmes looked at a man's shoes and saw red on them, the great detective of fiction could tell instantly the locality from which the man came.

Detectives of the future will be able to go Holmes one better, if one may judge from some of the scientific studies now being made upon dust particles.

Physicians have long known that dust flying in the air may cause certain ailments and city officials have seen to it that children's health on city playgrounds is protected against dust by certain dust-laying chemicals, such as calcium chloride.

Researches show that a man's occupation may be determined from the dust particles found on his clothing and, further, in many cases, police may learn the name of the city in which he has his home.

The matter seems simple enough, too. A steel worker will have fine particles of steel clinging to his clothing, no matter how often he may brush them. Such particles might be removed by brooms, vacuum cleaners or even magnets, but a sufficient number remains for determination by a microgeare.

So likewise might other occupations be determined: a school teacher from chalk dust; a jeweler from gold and silver particles; a druggist from chemical specks; a lumberman from minute fragments of wood, and so through most of the scale.

In the same way a man's city may be determined by analysis of dust found in his clothing. If it contains much carbon or coal, he probably comes from Scranton; if copper, from Butte, Montana; if bits of minute coral, from St. Augustine, Florida, whose streets are paved with coral, and similarly down the list.

No one pretends that the list at this time is accurate. But some patient investigators in the future may compile a list of occupations, as well as of cities, with all the precision that the advance of science may bring to it and then the job of the detectives promises to be easier.

A few years ago a French scientist was able to help the police to convict a man suspected of a certain murder in a quarry. The suspect said he had been sleeping in the fields. Microscopic examination of the man's clothing revealed the presence of quarry stone traces. The man then confessed

Empress will sail from the First Baptist church Annex Tuesday June 5th at eight o'clock. Each tourist is requested to bring a pair of deck cushions in addition to regular baggage.'

Games on deck were suggestive of Leap Year. The game of written proposals, acceptances and refusals lent much merriment to the trip. Stops were made at various stations and the tourists of the S. S. Empress were allowed to disembark for inspection tours.

During conversation, punch was served. Then near the close of the evening cream was served for refreshment of the travelers.

Misses Imogene Sapp and Fannie May Reese were on the entertainment committee. Guy Slocomb was bugler for the occasion. Mesdames Roy Law W. B. Skelton, and E. S. Hutcherson Messrs H. P. Black and E. To test fuel economy accurately and graphically, distributors and dealers of the Hudson Motor Car Co., in various parts of the country are now operating an interesting device on the dash of the car. This allows the driver or the prospective buyer of a Hudson or Essex car to see the actual rate of gasoline floy as he drives.

Reports to the Hudson factory are that average results of from 15 to 18 miles a gallon are being obtained with the Hudson Super-Six with the Essex showing from 18 to 25 miles. An interesting fact is that these averages vary with different drivers, operating the same cars over the same route. Dealers report that driving skill is almost as important a factor as varying road or traffic conditions.

"The high compression motors now used in both Hudson and Essex,' said Mr. Horstmann Hudson-Essex dealer, "has brought to them the highest standards of fuel economy they ever have known. Both motors are designed to wring the last drop of effectiveness from their fuel supply. For its size and power the Hudson is now particularly light in its demands for more gasoline.

"Real economy comes in freedom from repairs and in the ease with which Hudson-Essex cars are serviced. But owners are interested in gasoline mileage, a minor factor though it is, cars which can be visually proved to any owner or prospective buyer." and fortunately it is a quality of our

O. B. COLQUITT OUT RACE FOR U. S. SENATOR

CANNOT SUPPORT AL SMITH DECLARES FORMER GOVERNOR

Dallas, Tex., June 5.—Former Gov. O. B. Colquitt has withdrawn from the race for the democratic nomination for United States senator because of the "probable nomination of Al. E. Smith for president," he said in a letter made public here today.

His explanation of his startling unexpected maneuver was made in 57 words addressed to . W. Wilcox, chairman of the state democratic committee at Georgetown. It bore yesterday's date. It follows:

"In view of the probable nomination of Governor Al. E. Smith for president by the national democratic convenution and that I have said repeatedly that I could not and would not support him, I have decided not to ask for a place on the ticket in the democratic primaries as a candidate for the United States senate.' '

In some quarters former Governor Colquitt's explanation was accepted as possibly indicative of a trend of "bitter end" opponents of Governor Smith towards formation of a third party.

"Colquitt's position lends considerable weight to reports which have been in circulation with increasing fre quency, of the third party movement," said the Dallas Times Herald in a news story reporting Colquitt's withdrawal.

"His condidacy, it is believed, will be sponsored by the Texas constitutional democrats, in the organization of which he was one of the moving spirits.

"It is a well known fact that the great majority of those belonging to this organization were disappointed with the results of the Beaumont (state democratic) convention, and that they have been discussing a separate ticket, state and national, particularly since that meeting."

CRACKLINGC

If the congress of all nations fight among themselves as much and as bitterly as ours, no wonder the war spirit bobs up every so often and must be satisfied.

One of the kids in our neighborhood came home from school the other day and said Jimmie had a 'villiain' on his finger. If you ever had a felon, you can appreciate the fact that the kid was not so far off.

I read somewhere the other day, where a farmer and his wife who had never traveled except on the train and then for short trips, struck it lucky in oil an ddecided on taking a trip across the ocean and when their baggage was loaded on the steamer, the old lady hurried about seeking the drayman of the boat as she expressed it. One of the officers questioned her and found she wanted a large box moved into their cabin at once. She told the officer that she and Tom, her husband, brought most all their lunch with them, all they wanted was fresh home made bread and coffee three times a day and two cups each before bed time. Amused the officer asked why they did not want to eat the meals of the ship's dining room. "Well Tom and me have had all the duck, goose, turkey, quail we want for years on the farm. We're partial to chicken and pork and when we noticed in the paper an item which said this ship had ordered 250 turkeys, 500 ducks, 200 geese, 1000 quail and 16 beef, we decided we had better fry up a bunch of chicken and roast up some hog and since we wouldn't need the meat you have, we didn't feel like paying full price for the potatoes and gravy, so you just get our box and see that we get some home made bread and coffee and we'll be just fine ,and it'll seem more like home too.'

Bless their old souls, and I'll bet they were happy all the way over and back—if the chicken and pork lasted.

You can't please 'em—women I mean. Just to show you—the other day a neighbor lady brought over some fine looking preserves. I sampled 'em and they were sure fine. That afternoon I noticed ma cooking preserves and I asked what she was doing. "Well, I'm fixing those preserves Mrs. Mack brought, I added sugar and I'm cooking them over."

I like to read, I read every chance I get. I like good detective stories best. I started to liking them after I read last year where Hoover had been found reading detective stories in his state room on a train and when questioned about it said he honestly enjoyed good detective stories more than any other kind. Now my wife likes love stories. A woman never gets so old or good for nothing that she doesn't just love love stories.

A lot of folks will try to tell you things are going to the bow-bow's, but I notice where a wise publisher of big magazine tells his advertisers to "Tell it to Sweeney" and let the high brows go. "The masses are buying the luxuries,' h'e says. "The people, the Sweeneys, the Smiths, Jones and Cohens have the money. They are going in for golf radio and travel. They are the big buying mass. He tells his advertisers to sell Sweeney tuxedoes, silk shirts, dry ginger ale, Havana cigars, sporty good looking cars, period furniture, as well as chewing gum, rubber heels, cosmetics fur coats and books o netiquette.

Hes' not far off either for today the mass the middle class are the buyers of what ten years ago only the upper crust bought. If the "good things" are brought within reach of the millions, they manage somehow to get them.

I noticed where a noted criminal lawyer was robbed and slugged the other evening in his garage. The next day he vowed he would never defend another crook. It might be a good thing for a bunch of these crook defending lawyers to get a swat quite often.

The surest way to be happy is to be so gol-darn busy you will have no time to be unhappy.

I wonder if many folks have those days in which it seems nothing can be accomplished, when after you have puttered hard from sun up until sun down and are completely tired out and sit down to reflect and find you have contributed to your business exactly nothing.

I was visiting in one of those big publishing houses where authors bring their stories to sell. A bubbling slick haired feminine type male, pranced over to the desk next to where I was standing and waving some sheets of paper at the man at the desk said, "Would you like to read my last contribution to the eager world?" "Yes, I would read it if I was sure it would be your last."

There is one difference between a farmer's banquet and a city man's banquet. The farmer pays $1.00 and the city man $2.00 a plate. The eats are about the same, so are the talks.

Old timer says that he wants a few fire extinguishers buried with him when he retires from this world.

Mussolini is riding faster for a fall. He has stopped all amusements in Italy. That means that some day they will blow up and blow high.

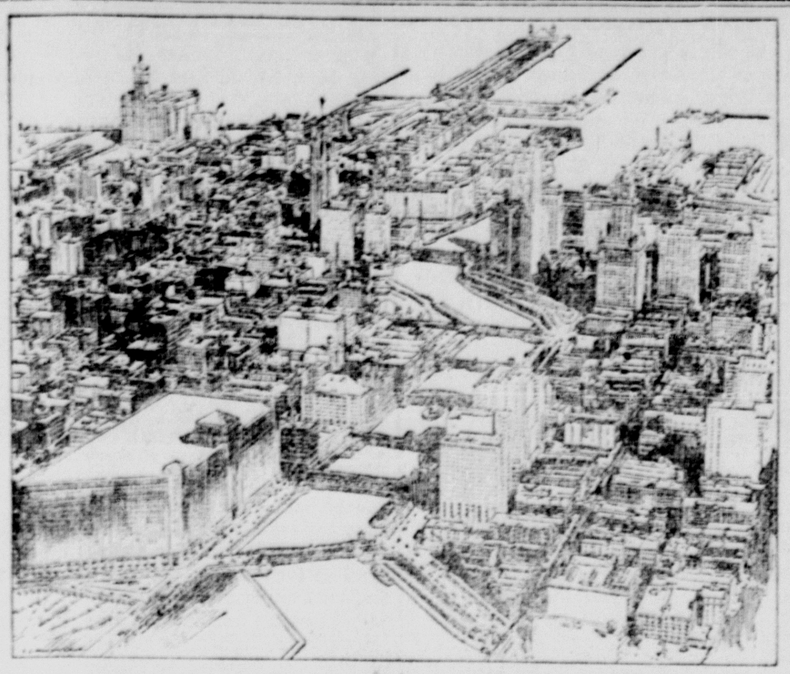

Some of our generally optimistic farmer friends are becoming very pessimistic, we just had to ask him if he was getting ready to run for office.

Money made the mare go, but it's credit that runs a lot of motor cars.

Italy is spoiling for a fight and of course will be accommodated in the course of time.

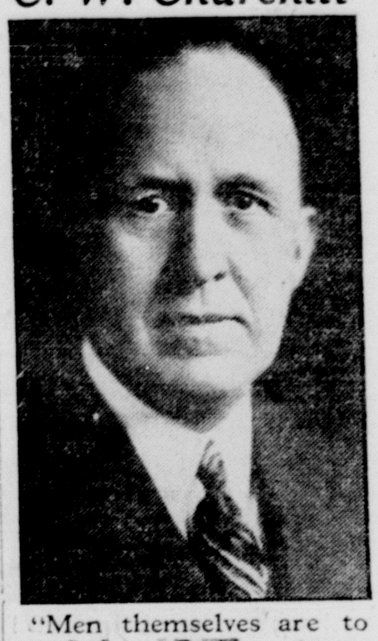

Most people are measured by their dollars, but that won't save the country.

Bird's-eye View of Chicago's New Business District Carrying Out the City Beautiful Theme in Which the Mercantile Mart Will Be a Dominant Factor

C. W. Churchill

"Men themselves are to blame for most of the faults women drivers display", says Mr. Churchill, general sales manager of the Buick Motor Co. And these faults are not great, anyhow, in Mr. Churchill's opinion. Women are superior to men in many phases of caroperation, he believes.

Ten Largest Business Buildings in the World

Comparison of the cubage of the largest buildings in the world shows the Merchandise Mart, to be erected in Chicago, will be more than twice the size of the largest business building ever constructed. Here are the figures in cubic feet:

FROM THE FILES OF THE CAMERON HERALD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Green spent last Sunday in Lott on a visit to relatives.

C. L. Hefley left this week for the territory on a prospective tour.

James Watson has accepted a position with a mercantile house in Rosebud.

On Thursday evening an immense audience assembled to hear the addresses and essays of the graduating class. The following program had been arranged for the occasion.

Invocation, Rev. J. S. Massey.

Chorus, E. Meyer.

Duet, Lula Cass and Mary Henderson.

Salutatory, Rhoda Jackson.

Duet, Etoile Frierson and Annie Lallier.

Essay, Willie Hefley.

Solo, R. Hoffman and Daisy Sprinkle.

Honor to whom honor is due, Giles Avriett.

Duet, Earl Langford and Lucile Kemp.

Essay, Annie B. Lallier.

Solo, Etoile Frierson.

Valedictory, Carrie Pool.

Quartette, Nell Meserve, Gertrude Thomas, Lilla Smith and Lula Chambers.

Presentation of diplomas, John Watson.

Chorus.

The parts were splendidly rendered and were liberally encored. After the oration of Giles Avriett, the young man acquitting himself with great credit, Supt. Sims appeared on the stage and dismissed the audience, the reason for doing so being for the want of order and decorum in the audience. We regret very much it is necessary to report such a termination to what promised to be a most enjoyable occasion. Some of the graduates had relatives and friends here from abroad, and the beautiful floral offerings were deprived of the opportunity of presentation. The night was threatening and a heavy rain was falling at the time the audience was dismissed.

Auto Accident Injures Driver

We read of many peculiar causes of auto accidents. Lester Nicholson is now in the hospital as result of a terrible crash.

The sun and wind caused him to have a bursting headache and he says he did not see a culvert.

Many accidents are caused by headaches and many motor trips are spoiled by a throbbing headache.

If you suffer from severe, throbbing, bursting, nervous sick headaches have nueralgia, rheumatism of joints or muscles, dental aches or earache, can't sleep soundly, are nervous, you should at once get a tube of twelve A-Vol tablets 25c size; thirty tablets 50c size—the new prescription for pain. Over 20,000 doctors, dentists and nurses prescribe A-Vol daily because they know it is absolutely harmless. A-Vol does not contain aspirin, acetanilid or any heart depressant. It stops pain in five minutes, or your druggist will refund your money. A-Vol does not numb the pain as do the older types of pain reliefs—it acts by relieving the nervous tension. That's why A-Vol acts so quickly and why it leaves you feeling so fine and full of pep.

You owe it to yourself to try this new discovery. Keep a package in your car at all times.—Adv.-tf.

Branchville News

The Branchville school was out last Friday. This has been a very successful school year and the children have accomplished what was required of each grade and in many instances went above that standard.

We have an unusually good school, especially for a country school. We have a nine month school. Mrs. O. F. Robinet, our principal is one of the best teachers. She has a splendid Christian influence over our children and community as a whole, which means lots to any school. For we all know the spiritual side of children's school should be developed as well as the educational. Our trustees, Mr. O. A. Tyson, A. J. Smith and H. V. Harlan do their best in trying to secure the very best teachers and do all that they are able to do toward improving the school and making it progressive.

The Dramatic Club made about $50 which will go in the library fund. The play which was the "Matrimonial Exchange" was carried to Gause and Jones Prairie. We appreciate the patronage and also the use of the school houses.

There was a large crowd at Branchville school last Friday night for the school exercises. The primary room gave a play and the seventh grade graduating exercises were very good.

Mrs. Robbins, our County Superintendent gave an address and presented the diplomas. Nilie J. Smith was valedictorian and Virginia Looney was salutatorian and gave splendid addresses. As we all know this is only the first station this class has reached on their great highway of education and may they have a greater desire to go on to the next and then the next until they can say they have reached every station on this highway. And may they make useful men and women that the community will be proud of.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Smith and son attended the bacculaureate sermon last Sunday night in Cameron.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Porter and Mary Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Smith and Nilie J and Mr. L. O. Walker were in Cameron at the graduating exercises Monday night.

Wilbur Looney of Dallas is here with his mother, Mrs. Mary E. Looney for a few days visit.

Irvin Harlan was here for the week end.

Miss Kathryn Harlan has been ill for the past week with the flu.

Miss Myrtle Tyson is home after having finished a very successful school year.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Peel from Houston have been here for a few days visit with relatives.

"Judge Electrical Service by its Results"

Says George E. Roberts,
Vice-President, National City Bank, New York

"In the business world today, the positions of leadership and responsibility are held by men who have been advanced to them under a system of competition and elimination. The test of fitness is an economic test—a test of ability to produce economic results. The fact that as a rule the men in positions of responsibility have come up from the ranks is proof that the system is fundamentally sound and effective. Society cannot afford to change from the economic test of leadership to an arbitrary or political system of selection."

—George E. Roberts

Science may measure electricity in terms of volts and ohms; business, in terms of kilowatt hours and the curve of production; homemakers, in terms of its labor saving and comfort-making advantages.

However measured, its extension and application by the electric light and power companies to every department of our industrial and domestic life stands out as among the most important basic causes of America's well-being. From its wires has sprung the golden flood of America's unprecedented prosperity.

But economists no longer limit wealth to things. They echo John Ruskin's sound doctrine, that "there is no wealth but life." And judged from this point of view also, the development of electric service in America will go down as one of the most far-reaching events in history.

These things have been made possible by the application of the sound American principle of leadership through competition and elimination—in short, by the principle of individual enterprise.

To the degree that this principle is maintained will the benefits derived from electric light and power continue to be multiplied.

REDPATH-HORNER CHAUTAUQUA

One Whole Week

WILL BEGIN FRIDAY, JUNE 15 LASTS 6 DAYS

BANNER YEAR FOR PREMIER CIRCUIT

The Redpath-Horner Chautauqua opens its 1928 season at Independence, Kansas on May 31st and will open for a six day engagement in Cameron on June 15, ending o June 21.

Beginning on May 31st at Independence, Kansas, the Premier Circuit of America finds its way through a long season for its twenty-second year of service to the great Southwest.

Premier attractions have become a standard of program excellence.

This year will be a banner year. People are alert and eager. The lecturers are outstanding. Their messages are timely, informative and inspiring.

The musical attractions are the latest word in costuming, popular selections and the classics that will never die. "A Gipsyie Caravan" will thrill as no other musical attraction has done. The music of Vagabond Land is always inspiring but add to it beautiful costumes, beautiful scenery, and exquisite lighting effects—the result will leave a never fading memory.

The dramatic presentations are outstanding. "Tommy" the newest show from Broadway, ran for eight months in New York and four months in Chicago and has been presented only once in the west and that at Kansas City. A cross-section of American home life is "Tommy." One of the greatest, cleanest, comedies that has ever gone over the Premier.

"The Shepherd of the Hills," that beloved story of the Ozark Hills from the pen of Harold Bell Wright, a story read and loved in every land, brought to the Premier in dramatic form with all of the great characters stepping from the pages of the book which tells the story of tender love and happy sacrifice.

Down through Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, the Primier finds it way, then back again through Oklahoma and Kansas to Colorado and New Mexico, up through Colorado again to Nebraska, then through Nebraska and closing in Kansas the early part of September. The personnel of the Premier is recruited from all parts of the country. A happy, combined, loyal force pledges itself to a successful Premier for the 1928 season, its 22nd consecutive year.

"THE SHEPHERD OF THE HILLS"
A Premier Attraction.

A particular sentimental interest centers about Harold Bell Wright's famous novel "The Shepherd of the Hills," a dramatization of which will be seen here as a feature of the Premier program, produced under the management of Charles F. Horner.

A story more typically American could hardly be imagined. The scenes are laid in the Ozark Mountains of Missouri, a region which may be said to have been discovered by Mr. Wright as it was little known to the average person, beyond those in the immediate vicinity, before the advent of "The Shepherd of the Hills" in story form. It has since become a national vacation ground through the popularity it attained from the 15,000,000 readers of the Wright story. A casual visit to this particularly unknown country showed the author its possibilities, and he remained to write a story of the every day life in that section. The story is now read in every land.

The picturesque and sturdy mountaineers, "Preachin Bill," "Old Matt," "Young Matt," "Wash Gibbs," "Little Pete," "Sammy Lane," and all the other quaint characters are introduced in the stage version which abounds with romantic heart interest a charm of the "Hills" one cannot easily forget.

"The Shepherd of the Hills" is presented by a most remarkable cast on the fifth night of the Premier Attraction Program.

"Salesmanship" Theme of Fogleman's Address

H. L. Fogleman is a practical business man and a practical salesman. To sit under his instruction means a service to the individual the institution and the community that cannot be estimated in dollars and cents.

Mr. Fogelmann has been enthusiastically hailed as "a crusader with an intense hatred of business inefficiency"—"a great teacher,"—"a master orator"—"a whirlwind speaker"—"a veritable dynamo, pulsating with energy and vibrant with magnetism"—"Live, inspirational, practical, compelling.

The greater part of Mr. Fogleman's life has been spent in helping the other fellow solve his biggest problem. He has conducted salesmanship classes in such great industrial institutions as the Standard Oil Co., Ford Motor Co., the American Railway Express Co., the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., the Mutual Life Insurance Co., the Cadillac Motor Co. the Chicago Examiner and other nationally known institutions.

Mr. Fogleman has addressed the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club, Lion Club, Optimist Club and various Business Men's Organizations in all the principal cities in every State in the Nation.

There is nothing stereotyped in what he says. His utterances are original and the result of much study and deliberation along practical lines.

No subject or business problem ever looks quite the same after Mr. Fogelman has taken it diwn from the shelf and talked about it.

His subject this year is "The Value of a Man."

Mr. Fogleman speaks on the fourth night of Premier attractions.

Texas and Texans

East Texas Optimism

The spirit of optimism prevaling throughout East Texas is in marked contrast with the feeling that existed two or three years ago, or before the organization of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce. Perhaps the same feeling was there then, but it lacked co-ordination, and it was the possession of the few rather than of the many. About one man in every ten entertained a vague dream that East Texas would in time overcome its lassitude and become thoroughly awakened to its possibilities. The rest were either despondent or thought East Texas was "getting along well enough, thank you." It is true that there were some exceptional communities and a number of thrifty towns and enterprising small cities where these conditions did not exist—where there was hearty co-operation in purely local affairs. But these could not by themselves do much toward a sectional upbuilding, and knowing this they did not try. Almost in a spirit of desperation the scattered East Texas enthusiasts and towns, stimulated by the uccess of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in unifying the West Texas people, got together some two years ago and organized the East Texas Chamber of Commerce. The splendid result is evident everywhere.

People Have Changed

Time enough has not elapsed since the work of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce was organized to bring about much change in the appearance of either the towns or the country. The traveller passing hurriedly thru might conclude that it is the same old East Texas. The change is in the people themselves, in their attitude toward their own communities, their neighbors and the necessity for standing together and working unitedly and hard for the good of all. The people themselves may not have noticed this change in themselves. We scarcely realize the progress we make in a few years. But those who see us only occasionally are quick to notice either growth or deterioration. East Texas men and women as a whole have something within themselves that either did not exist a few years ago ,or that was smothered under inaction. It is hopefulness, accompanied by determination—a desire for greater achievement—a pride in letting others know that East Texas is coming into its own.

Selfishness Passing

One East Texan with whom I talked a few minutes at Longview when the editor stopped there on the way to their convention at Texarkana, said, "East Texans are now seeing that we have been too selfish and self-centered. we haven't looked far enough beyond our own little farms to study the possibilities of improving our own conditions and at the same time helping the other fellows. Perhaps it has been because we have been making a living so easily that we haven't thought it necessary, but we have at last found that even if life has been easy it hasn't been as full as it might have been if we had been more active i n our own interests and in neighborliness. We have never been unfriendly to the highest development of our section, but just indifferent—that is most of us have been."

No one is optimistic enough to hope that selfishness will ever entirely die, but there is something in organized and united effort for community, sectional and state upbuilding that helps to make us "love our neighbors as ourselves" in a peculiarly striking way—a way that reacts in our own development.

The Longview Home

The Texas Press Association had a part in dedicating the New $30,000 home of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce which was donated to the organization by the citizens of Longview to secure for Longview the permanent home. Many chamber of commerce secretaries from East Texas were there by invitation, as were many other citizens from all parts of East Texas. All rejoiced with the Association in hoving such a splendid home and with Longview in thus attesting its confidence in the future of the organization. There was no jealousy evident. The home is regarded as an East Texas and not a Longview achievement. It is the home of the new spirit that exists in East Texas. It's beautiful architecture typifies the awakening of all East Texas.

Most Notable Movement

Diversification of a kind that enables East Texas to live at home is perhaps the most notable recent change in East Texas. It is no longer a 'cotton country' exclusively, nor is corn the only other crop, as it once was. The East Texas farmer is now growing more different kinds of crops than he knew of a few years ago—and best of all perhaps, he is turning to dairying and poultry and hog raising as farm side-lines. Dairying has been made profitable by the help of local chambers of commerce, assisted by the parent organization, in building creameries, cheese factories and other milk products plants that furnish ready and satisfactory prices for milk and butter fat. And dairying is helping the farmer to make greater profits from hogs and poultry. It is also aiding in building up much depleted soil.

Farm Buildings Better

East Texas farm buildings "aint what they used to be. " Improved conditions on East Texas farms are rapidly being shown in improved homes and other farm buildings. Painted farm buildings are seen all along the roads. Shrubbery and flowers, gardens, orchards are noticed everywhere. Good roads are glimpsed near the railroads, automobiles may be seen at almost every home, and radio aerials attest the desire for wider information. The people evidently live in comfort. They travel. They enjoy life. The country is again catching up with the towns in the matter of comfortable living conditions.

People Much Alike

What has been written here has not been with a purpose of boosting East Texas, but it has been to let you see something of the changes as I have noticed them and to show that the spirit now prevailing in that part of Texas is pretty much the same spirit that is found all over the state. I find it wherever I go and set forth in the press from all sections. We read much of financial depression in the Northern and Eastern States. Of course people have financial difficulties everywhere but in no port of Texas are such conditions general. Texas is unusually prosperous. Its people are living better than they have ever lived, and whether a Texan's home is in East, West, North, South or Central Texas, he is likely to think that his is the 'garden spot' of the state. He should think so ,for after all it isn't so much where one lives as how he lives that makes for happiness and contentment.

Knowing Each Other

To my mind the greatest accomplishment of both the local and regional chambers of commerce in Texas has been in bringing the people to knowing each other better, in acquainting one section with another, town people, rich with poor, and showing us that we are all built pretty much out of the same material.

CHAS. W. MOWDY AND MISS FURMAN HAIR MARRIED IN TEMPLE; HAPPY COUPLE TO MAKE THEIR FUTURE HOME IN DALLAS

The following from the Temple Telegram of last Sunday will be of interest to the peope of Cameron and Milam county where Chas. W. Mowdy was born and reared, son of the late Dr. W. T. Mowdy and Mrs. W. T. Mowdy now residing in Cameron.

The wedding occured in Temple last Thursday. The father of the bride, Hon. W. W. Hair, noted Texas attorney is well known in Cameron. Chas. W. Mowdy has a wide circle of friends here who will read with interest of his marriage. The Mowdy family is one of the old and prominent families of this section and the wedding of these young people unite two distinguished households.

A wedding of interest to a wide circle of friends, is that of Miss Furman Hair of Austin and Charles W. Mowdy of Dallas, both formerly of this city, which was solemnized in a quiet but beautiful and impressive ceremony, at the Episcopal chapel in Austin, Thursday at noon, in the presence of only family members and a few intimate friends. The altar vases were filled with gorgeous pink gladioli, and the seven branch candelabra were lighted, making a lovely background for the wedding party.

The wedding march was played by Miss Katherine Molesworth of Austin. The bride's brother, Will Hair of this city, was best man, the bride's niece, little Miss Nancy Woodward, daughter of Mrs. N. P. Woodward of Austin, was the junior maid. The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the Hon. W. W. Hair of Abilene, formerly of Temple. The ring service was read by Bishop E. C. Seaman, of the West Texas diocese of the Episcopal church, who was assisted by Rev. Harris Matterson of the Austin church.

Little Miss Woodward wore a frock of pale green voile, full from the shoulders, with narrow Irish lace edge on neck and sleeves, small, close fitting hat of pale pink horse-hair braid, pale pink sox and black Roman sandals. She carried a colonial bouquet of sweet peas and ferns. The men were dressed in dark blue business suits.

Following the ceremony, the bridal party, Bishop Seaman, Reverend and Mrs. Masterson, and family members went to the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. James Hart where a beautiful buffet luncheon was served and the wedding cake was cut. The bride then slipped away and donned her traveling dress of Indian print silk, very tailored, Panama hat trimmed with tan ribbon tan pumps, gloves and purse. As they said goodbye, the bride threw her bouquet which was caught by Miss Thelma Dillingham who gave it to Mrs. Woodward and it was sent to Temple to be placed upon the grave of their mother. The groom's gift to his bride was a beautiful dinner ring. The bride's gift to the junior maid, was a dainty little pearl ring.

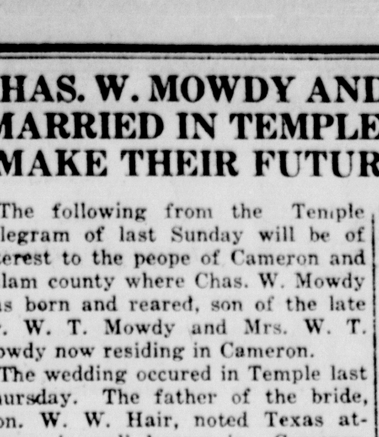

The bride is the second daughter of Hon. W. W. Hair, now of Abilene. She was born and reared in Temple, and is loved in a large circle of friends for her many charming and splendid traits. She was graduated from Temple high school, did government work in Central America for some time, and received an A. D. degree from Texas State university. During the school year just closed, she taught in the Dallas public schools.

The groom, who formerly resided in Temple, is a Cameron boy, and is one of the rising young business men of Dallas popular in a wide circle of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Mowdy left immediately in their car for a wedding trip, and are now receiving the congratulations and best wishes of their many friends, at their home in Dallas.

Success Comes In Cans—not in cant's

It's a ten to one shot that the prettiest girl in town spends plenty of time painting. That used to be scandal, but now it's compliment.

What goes for girls, goes for buildings, homes or anything exposed to the weather.

Paint is essential, so get busy RIGHT NOW! We don't mean to say that a lassie's nose might corrode and fall off if not painted or powdered ever so often, but we KNOW what happens to other woodwork if overlooked. See US about paint and other building problems.

Each one present assisted in the wording of a book of recipes for the honoree. Following this program, the guests were directed to the lawn where they were seated in chairs grouped about a bride's chair and awaited Miss King as she approached the seat of honor by the way of a snow white path.

As the strains of a wedding march were heard from the building at the side, little Miss Leola Wilkerson cunningly dressed in a dress of pink georgette, advanced the bride's chair, pulling a pink wagon and white fairy wagon laden with a miscellaneous shower, leaving it at the feet of Miss King. The honoree, in her gracious manner, accepted the gifts with fitting words of thanks.

Tuesday Bridge Club

Mr. and Mrs. Judd Davis were host and hostess last Tuesday evening to a group of friends at their home on Seventeenth Street when they entertained with bridge.

The home was daintily decorated in spring flowers, in all bright pastel shades and with the mellow light shed by the lights made such a lovely setting for the five game tables that were daintily decorated. The five tables each had a cover of tarton in the shades of pink, yellow, lavender, blue and green. Three tiny ruffles on each end of the covers made a valance that extended over the edges. On the center of each table was a basket to match the cover and filled with flowers of the same shade. These were given as table cuts.

At the conclusion of many spirited games the hostess assited by Miss Inez Evans and Miss Gladys, a daughter of the home, served brick cream in three shades and angel food squares embossed to correspond with the color scheme of each table.

High score prizes were awarded to Miss Rose Rischar and Mr. Oxsheer Smith. For the lady a lavender perfume bottle, by the gentleman a key ring case. Low prizes were awarded to Mrs. J. M. Coleman and Mr. J. L. Clinton. Mrs. Coleman received bath salts in three shades and Mr. Clinton received a case of cards.

Table cuts were received by Messrs. W. B. Levy, J. L. Clinton, Oxsheer Smith, Judd Davis the host and Mrs. George T. Graves. The lucky ones presented the lovely baskets to their wives and Mr. Davis gave the one he cut for to Miss Rose Rischar.

The reception rooms were charming with floral decorations of daisies and roses. A color scheme of green and gold was carried out in table appointments. Centerpieces for the service trays were boxes of bath powder artistically arranged as to form flowers. Guest prizes were perfume.

The hostess served her guests to a dainty salad plate. Honor guests on this occasion were Mrs. Blair of West Palm Beach, Florida; Mrs. Fontaine Flinn, Bishop. Mrs. Cecil Warner, Pine Bluff, Arkansas.

Amusement of the party began with charades. Selected programs were distributed and some time was spent in getting them filled and executed.

Victrola music was played through the evening and a large bowl of fruit punch was available to the personell of the party as they took part in the numerous games of the meeting. A delectable iced plate was served by the hostess. Out of town guest was Jimmie Sedbury of Waco.

WEAK, NERVOUS

Got Stronger After She Had Taken Cardui.

"For some time, I had been having an awful time with pains in my back and sides," says Mrs. Robert Creasy, of Qulin, Mo. "This awful hurting would come on me, and I could find nothing to ease the pain.

"I was very weak and nervous. It looked like the least little thing would upset me.

"I tried many remedies, but nothing did me any good until I started taking Cardui.

"Cardui proved to be all that was said of it. I took it for several months, regularly. At the end of that time, I was in good health, and have been so ever since."

WHAT WE THINK

By FRANK DIXON

Some day when I can get enough money together, I am going to get into politics for the fun in the game. I would get out for no other purpose; and I'll do my best to follow in the footsteps of those who have gone before, but I want a new party that will kick hell out of all the old ones. Of course I know what will happen to any party that gains the ascendancy, all the rascals will get in, that means most everyone. Most of us are a little out of joint quite often, of course there will be a few disgruntled wives and elderly maidens to reckon with, but they don't count much anyway.

It is said that no one loves a fat man, so we count only on the men's vote and we expect to go strong on that. Of course we expect to get all the votes of the younger women because we have always stood for them. Of course we particularly like flappers. Let'em flap. But getting back to politics—"aint it grand."

It is a wonder bachelors do as well as they do, they have no boss.

A paper states that there are 4,000,000 people of voting age who can not vote intelligently. Why stop at four million? Who knows anyone who can vote intelligently? It is all guess work and most of the time we guess wrong.

There is only one privilege that men enjoy that women cannot rob them of, and that is growing whiskers.

Quite often I like to harken back to the dark Ages, that is I like to see roosters fight. I can watch'em by the hour. I think it is one of the sports that ought to be restored to its proper place as a highly entertaining sport—and then the roosters put me so much in mind of human beings. When the fight is over if one of them is able to crow, he does, but he has nothing to crow about.

Waiter: "Spring lamb sir."

Diner: "I thought so, I have been chewing one of the springs for an hour."

If ever we win fame it will not be by owning a Hound Dog or playing golf.

Economy and tax reduction is the battle cry of the politicians but there will be nothing done, taxes will be higher next year. If you don't want to pay taxes go to the wilds of the mountains and live in a tepee.

We never could understand why a barber waits until a customer gets in his chair before sharpening his razor.

A man may stand off his grocer but he always seems able to rake up enough money to buy gasoline.

Seems to us they have about stretched things to the limit when they offer to sell auto tires $1 down and $1 whenever they catch you.

Should Begin At Home

Parents are more to blame for the existence of poverty in this country than any other class of people. How many of them are trying to teach their children to save and economize? Money is not the only thing in which thrift and economy can be manifested. Saving is a habit just as smoking grows to be a habit with a man. The first dozen cigars a man smokes make him sick, but after that he has formed a habit and imagines he can't get along without them. So it is with savings. When the child forms the habit of thinking before spending money for foolish things, that child will have also have formed a habit of saving his or her clothes and will not waste food.

Figures are obtainable which clearly demonstrate that in many factories employes who were induced to put part of their earnings into government securities also contracted the habit of making use of much material they formerly consigned to the scrap pile. The whole argument again reverts to the statement made by the late James J. Hill when he said:

"If you want to know whether or not you are destined to be a success or a failure in life you can easily find out. The test is simple and infallible. Are you able to save money? If not drop out. You will lose. You may think not, but you will lose as sure as you live. The seed of success is not in you."

Parents you owe this to your children and should not let them drift into pauperism.

Some civic writers ask why it is that the French people are all anxious to serve on juries while Americans fight it. That's simple. The French put on a good show, with continuity and no submersion of testimony. In America, a trial consists of 8 per cent testimony (censored) 92 per cent objections and interruptions from attorneys.

Two Minute Sermons

By Rev. George Henry

A Man's Religion

There is nothing effeminate about the Christian religion. One must be every inch a man to follow Christ. It was a man's job to tackle the Scribe and the Pharisee, to take the part of the poor and the outcast, to set aside tradition and superstition, to brave the wrath of a Jewish priesthood and a Roman State. None but a hero with the consciousness of the approval of God could withstand the persecution and the abuse that were heaped upon Him. None but He could carry that cross up the rugged path of Calvary. Following Him were men like Mathew, Peter, James, Paul, and the rest who went to their death in defense of their faith in Him. There was one weak man. He forsook the Christ and betrayed Him. We still have the weak brother with us. We need not go back to Judea and Judas to find him; nor do we have to go back to Paul and Palestine to find the strong. There are men today whom wheel and wrack and fagot and torch and arena and cross would not afright; men who stand four square to every wind that blows; men who have a right to wear the name "Christian."

Lee Tag Entertains

Lee Tag gave a farwell party Friday night from seven to eleven o'clock at his home on East Twenty-Third Street and had five of his bachelor friends as guests.

The reception room was bright with its floral decoration of gladiola, roses and larkspur in yellow and blue, while the dining table was set with a certain quaint charm, holding as its center piece a bowl of exquisite spring flowers.

A sumptuous three course banquet was served, following which bridge proved a most popular diversion until the late hour.

Attending on this occasion were Messrs. Franklin Dusek, Charlie Pardo, Willard Keith, Mike Wiley and Harry Tag.

Margaret McCown Honors Bride-To-Be

An unusually pretty social event of last week was the forty-two party given by Miss Margaret McCown on the lawn of her home on College Avenue Wednesday evening, May 30, at which time she named Miss Verna King, bride-to-be of June 5th as honoree.

Multicolored lights and bridge lamps lighted the lawn which set with potted ferns and cut bouquets in a natural frame of growing flowers made a beautiful picture for the five tables placed for the games. Table favors, score pads and placecards in pink and white were significant of the approaching nuptial .

At the conclusion of a number of peppy games, Miss Hilda Burke as winner of high score was presented a miniature bride and groom, which she in turn presented Miss King. In the cuts for table favors tiny wedding parties went to the Misses Bernice Reese, Bessie Dunham, Bessie King, Lorene Plentl and Inez Evans.

A delicious salad plate with iced punch was served the twenty-two guests forming the personnel of the party. With Miss McCown acting as toast mistress a toast was made to the honoree by Mis Bernice Reese, another to the absent groom by Miss Edna Radtke, "How to Keep a Husband" by Mrs. Lester Williams and "Consolation to the Girls Left Behind" by Miss Bessie Dunham.

The climax of the party was reached when the hostess led the honoree to an improvised bower and presented her with a bountiful miscellaneous shower of gifts, which was most graciously accepted by Miss King.

42 Party

One of the many social courtesies extended Miss Verna King was the forty-two party Friday morning from nine to eleven o'clock when Miss Cornelia Gunn entertained at her home on South Crockett Avenue.

Spring flowers and table appointments carried out a scheme of blue and white. 42, contests and fortune telling furnished entertainment, causing the hours to pass all to quickly. Miss Gunn presented the honoree with a pretty framed motto.

The following were served to a dainty salad plate with iced tea, plate favors being minute brides: Misses Verna King, Louise Johnson, Margaret McCown, Goldy and Hilda Burke, Jennie Shirley, Bessie King, Euline Slaughter, Helen Blaylock, Maymie Clyde Weaver of Dallas, and Oleta Reese.

Branchville News

We had a splendid rain Monday morning, everyone was very thankful for it as it was so badly needed.

There is quite a commotion in our community with school people coming and going.

Miss Inez Henson is home from Austin where she has attended school.

We will miss our girls that will be away for the summer school session. They are Misses Keith Judkins, Eulla Cooper and Kathryn Harlan. We wish these girls much success in their school work.

Mrs. O. F. Robinett has been away for the past week visiting relatives at Lanchester.

Miss Maymie Clyde Weaver is here for a few days visit with her grandmother, Mrs. R. Self and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Self and family.

Everyone was very sorry to give up Mrs. A. S. Hollingsworth and family who have moved to Belton to be with her husband who is with the express company there.

Misses Mary White and Mary Ethel Massengale spent the day with Miss Sarrah Harlan last Thurday. These girls and Miss Dorothy Foster enjoyed a horseback ride.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith went to Waco Tuesday night to attend the graduating exercises.

A. J. Smith is at A. & M. to attend the home coming of his class, who is having its twentieth reunion.

Mrs. M. R. Looney visited her daughter Mrs. Young at Buckholts.

Misses Francis and Edith Smith entertained members of their club with an all day party last Thursday. They enjoyed a fine spread at noon which consisted of spring chicken, pickles, salads of all kinds, iced tea, cream and cake. In the afternoon they all went for an outing to Sugar Loaf Mountain.

The B. Y. P. U. Zone meeting met at the Branchville church Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. There was quite a number of churches represented and everyone enjoyed the program.

Numbers on the program were as follows: Address by Mr. Lemmons, pastor of Little River. Solo, Miss Inez Evans. Address to the young people, Mr. Gillis of Cameron. Special music, Miss Cornelia Gunn of Cameron. Brother Black brought some very interesting plans up before the meeting of a summer encampment which will be so nice for the young people and anyone that can arrange to go should do so. The plans are to meet and enjoy a regular outing or vacation together and take a study course in B. Y. P. U. and Sunday school work. This would only take a very small portion of the time and the rest of the time could be spent in different ways of entertainment.

Brother Jameson preached two very interesting sermons Sunday and had a very peculiar sermon Sunday night, "Bed to short, blanket to narrow" found in the 28th chapter of Isaiah. He handled this subject with great care and said some very good things that should have been heard by all.

Little Mary Ruth Porter has been in Cameron the past week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Randolph.

L. L. Henderson has the Looney store rented and has put in a nice little stock of goods. Cecil Judkins is going to clerk for him.

Mrs. Fox Entertains

On last Friday afternoon Mrs. Mack Fox entertained a group of her friends, with bridge, at her home on Thirteenth Street.

The color scheme of yellow lavender and green was very beautifully carried out in floral adornment, table accessories and favors. Score pads and tallies featured colonial ladies in buffant skirts flower trimmed.

High score was a dainty colonial lady powder box in china and was won bw Miss Wyllene Hyde. Low went to Mrs. Trent Newton, a novelty powder box. Table favors were green crystal bowls of yellow nasturtiums and were cut for by Mesdames Lola Hearrell, Jas. Watson, Ben Baskin, W. B. Levy, Fontaine Flinn of Bishop, Jas. L. Coleman, W. M. Blair of West Palm Beach, Fla., and Miss Willene Hyde.

The hostess served cream in yellow rose design and cake embossed with colonial bouquet in colors. Plate favors were lavender sweet peas.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Fontaine Flinn of Bishop; Mrs. Cecil Warner of Fort Smith, Ark., and Mrs. W. M. Blair of West Palm Beach, Fla., house guest of her aunt Mrs. Tom Denson.

Baptist B. Y. P. U.

The program planning committee of the Hutcherson B. Y. P. U. met Monday afternoon with its leader, Mrs. Roy Law with eleven present. The president presided and the devotional was taken from 1 Samuel 26: 5-7. The committee was then led in prayer by one of our sponsors, Mrs. Don Slocomb immediately followed by the business which was planning programs for the month of June and planning ways in which to ecourage daily Bible reading. After the business session a social hour was enjoyed by a generous serving of candy. Those present were Mesdames Roy Law, and Don Slocomb, John A. Smith, Lora Cole, Ida Byrd Mayfield, Johnnie Reese, Laurita Evans, Mildred Compton, Dorothy Kidd, Mary Frances Blaylock and Maurine Leonard.

Mexican Baptist Church

On the 13th day of May I baptised nine members, others are to follow. The church has paid first hundred dollars on the $1000 note and pledges amounting to $200 still to come in. Gilbert Rubio Jr., came home Thursday from the Texas-Mexican Industrial Institute where he has had the first term, also his companion, Santos Navo, both are well pleased with their first experience in that school.
